
Dr. Renee Just

Dr. Just spent 20+ years in the corporate environment with her last position in the health-care services industry where she served as the Director of Recruitment and Program Development. She has worked with organizations ranging from $1M to $2B in revenue serving in several capacities.

After leaving corporate, she launched a consulting practice where she works with small business owners and entrepreneurs in setting strategic goals and devising robust action plans that will allow them to be successful in achieving their goals. She plays a key role with Executive teams in Leadership Development and works with all levels of management in teambuilding efforts, thus enhancing productivity. Her diverse experience is what gives her the insight, understanding, and ability to consult as a strategic partner.

Dr. Just received her EdD from Vanderbilt University in Leadership and Learning, her PhD from Capella University in Industrial & Organizational Psychology, her MA in Industrial and Organizational Psychology with a concentration in Training and Organizational Development from the University of New Haven, and her BS degree in Business Management from Albertus Magnus College.

Dr. Just is an Associate Professor of Leadership in the College of Business and Communication at Brenau University and has been in higher education for over fifteen years. She lives in Flowery Branch, GA and in her free time, she cooks, entertains, volunteers, spends time with family and friends, and hikes with her rescue dog Harley.
